MEDICINAL.

A SURPRISING CASE.

Mr. e . W. Harris, a prominent lawyer a No. 1005 G st. n. w., Washington, D. C., under date of Jan. 11th, 1890, wrote to the A. S. C Chemical Co., Richmond, Va., giving the history of a case of skin eruption of £0 years' standing the result of malignant blood disease. (At this time Mr. Harris had been unable to walk for six months) In reply he was directed to use A. B. C. Alterative with the assurance that he would be enred. March 1st, 1890, Mr. Harris again wrote the A. B. C. Chemicai Co. iu the following words: "The improvement in my case so far is almost miraculous. I am really getting well, and can walk as well as I ever could, and my general health Meantime you can refer any one to me you desire, and I shall certainly tell them that the A. B. C. Alterative has done me more good in two months than has 20 years' experience with various eminent physicians and all other remeples tried." Under date of April 7th, 1890, Mr Harris wrote, "I am entirely well."

RAN OFF WITH HER THUE LOVE -Ayre Chapel, a small Methodist choich on the bay side of Accomack county, Va., wes the scane of a church festival Tuesday night. In the was never better. I shall write you from time to audience sat Miss Sally Gray, who has won the hearts of many ewains in that rigion, and on one side of her sat Bee Scott and on the other sat Flercher Lawis, rival claimants for her hand. Some time ago Saliy's parents found out that she was engaged to Scott, and being opposed to him, they succeeded in inducing her to break the engagement. Soon after this "ally informed her parents that she had transferred her affection to Fetcher Lewis, and that they would be married on New Year's Day. Accordingly preparations were begun on a big scale to celebrate the event. Stily ordered an elaborate on fit, and the old folks set themselves to work to make the occasion all that could be desired. Wednesday, when the church festival at Ayre Chapel was in full blast, and Fletcher Lewis, who was supposed to be the coming man, was speaking his piece in the programme of exercises in public on the stage, Bee Scott and Sally Gray slipped allently ont of the church, jumped into a buggy, and drove five miles away to Parksley station, where they took the midnight train and disappeared. When it became known and disappeared. When it became known that they had fied young Lewis was almost crazed with grief. He wept like a child, and, in company with the young woman's sister, went in pursuit of the fugitives, but did not succeed in finding them, Saily's mother was in Onancock Thursday revoking orders for dresses, cakes, and other things orders for dresses, cakes, and other things ordered for the marriage that now

> A PATHETIC ECENE. - Some time since a woman of the baser sort ended her miserable career in one of the bouses of ill-fame in Charlottesville. She was said to have been a remarkably handsome girl, intelligent and gifted, and the scene at her deathbed is eaid to have been pathetic in the extreme. In her moments of unconsciousness she was a child again, happy in her innocent joyousness, and she would smile, and hold out her this hands, and oxclaim, "Mamma, take me!" and again she would see her father, and appealingly beseech him not to be sogry with her. Then a lucid interval, and her eyes would open, and the would stare at her surroundings, not seeing the figures of her dreams, and her features settled into hard, hopeless, and despairing lines, while her attenuated form was agitated by sighs and mosns. Her wretched companions stood around her, utierly unable to give her one consoling word, or to ease the torture of a soul going with full consciousness into the presence eyes, or seften their stubborn hearts. We tear that they do? And are they alone responsible for their lives ?- Charlottesville

WESTERN LUNATIC ASYLUM -The 63d annual report of the superintendent and the board of directors of the Western Lunatic Asylum at Staunton, for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1890, has been published. A brief synopsis of its contents is published below: On Oct. 1, 1889, there were 601 papatiente in the asylum, 299 males and 302 females. Duriog the year 125 were admitted, 67 males and 58 females; and 122 were removed, 72 males and 50 females, of whom together 82 had recovered, 5 had improved, 3 were unimproved, and 32 died. The total number of patients in the asylum for any time during the year was 726, and the daily average number was 606. The total num ber remaining in the asylum Sept. 30, 1890, was 604, of whom 294 were males and 310 were females. Of the 726 in the asylum for any time in the year, 237 were married, 428 unmarried, 35 widows. 14 widowers, and 12 of unknown social relation. Of the 67 males admitted, 26 were farmers, 17 laborers 4 clerks, 2 merchants, and 4 persons of no occupation. No two of the 14 others belonged to any one occupation. In the table of supposed causes of insanity for the 125 males and females admitted, 13 cases were assigned to hereditary, 10 to il health, 4 to la grippe, 1 to excessive reading, and two to
